A key component of the Fort Gordon Regional GMP planning process is public involvement and engagement. Through the initial virtual public meeting, the CSRA RC along with stakeholders identified in the Augusta metropolitan area, will work collaboratively to ensure that decisions are made in consideration of community needs.

“The input, involvement and participation of local community members, both military and civilian, is an integral part of the Fort Gordon Regional GMP process,” said Costa Pappis, Project Manager with CSRA RC. “Joining the conversation on July 28th will give everyone an opportunity to learn more about what we have planned, why we are doing it, and how we will accomplish it.” Following an overview presentation, participants will be encouraged to ask questions and provide comments.
